Eat Local Movement Benefitting Farmers Markets

By Chaille Clements
Communications and
Marketing Specialist - MDAC

There is a growing trend among many Americans today. Our population is increasingly aware of where their food comes from. Everywhere you look, you see the phrase “Eat Local,” and with summer right around the corner, now is the perfect time to partake in this growing movement. Eating and grocery shopping locally not only benefits the consumers of our state, but also the farmers and economy.

Shopping at a Certified Farmers Market is one of the best ways to ensure that you are getting fresh produce straight from Mississippi soil. A Certified Farmers Market has been inspected by the Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce (MDAC) to confirm that the majority of produce being sold is grown in Mississippi by Mississippi farmers. With new markets opening every year, local fruits and vegetables are increasingly accessible in nearly every part of the state. In 2006, Mississippi had only 23 markets; today that number has grown to 85. That number will continue to grow as more and more Mississippians turn to their agricultural roots and want to know where their food is coming from.

These markets not only provide fresh, healthy local produce to Mississippians, they also boost the local, state, and regional economies. Money spent at farmers markets recirculates locally, benefitting the farmers, businesses, and people of Mississippi. According to USDA, locally owned retailers, such as farmers markets, return more than three times as much of their sales to the local economy compared to chain competitors. Grocery shopping locally also benefits the state’s job market. USDA research shows that growers selling locally create 13 full time jobs per $1 million in revenue earned, while those that do not sell locally create only three jobs. This means that the support of farmers who serve as vendors at farmers markets throughout the state creates countless job opportunities right here in Mississippi.

As one of the 85 farmers markets in the state, the Mississippi Farmers Market alone makes a significant impact on local consumers, farmers, and economy. Food from the Mississippi Farmers Market travels an average of 62 miles from its origin. This distance is significantly lower than the national average of 2,500 miles, making food from the Mississippi Farmers Market much fresher and safer for consumers. The market also provided direct community access to 119 farmers and vendors in 2013. These farmers together supported 137 acres of diversified farmland. The availability of so many farmers who are taking their products an incredibly short distance allows consumers to truly “Eat Local,” and these numbers are solely from one of the multitude of markets in our state.

Today, eating locally is not limited to cooking fruits and vegetables at home; restaurants around the state are also following the “Eat Local” movement. Download the Mississippi Farmers Market mobile app to see a listing of restaurants that source their food from local farmers. The app also features a listing of farmers markets throughout the state. Users can search for markets on a map by location or through a list, and contact and website information are detailed for each market. The app also notes whether the market is certified or not, and it will give users directions to any market from his or her location. Other features of the mobile app include up-to-date information on the Mississippi Farmers Market as well as detailed information on Mississippi’s fresh, seasonal produce, a vendor listing, product search, the Mississippi Market Bulletin, an event listing, and so much more!

On the Mississippi Farmers Market mobile app event listing, be sure to check out the Mississippi Farmers Market Summer Kick-Off on Saturday, June 7, 8:00 a.m. until 2:00 p.m. It will be a day of fun with cooking demonstrations, live entertainment, kids’ activities, as well as an abundance of seasonal produce, specialty foods, and works from local artists. For more information and What’s Fresh weekly, visit www.msfarmers-market.org or follow us on Facebook at “Mississippi Farmers Market.”

From Our Kitchen To Yours

Fresh from the Farmers Market

Country Potato Salad

2 pounds small potatoes, preferably heirloom
1 cup celery, chopped
2 ounces smoked ham, sliced into strips
1/4 cup parsley, chopped fresh
2 tablespoons chives or scallions, chopped fresh
2 tablespoons mint or dill, chopped fresh
3/4 cup nonfat buttermilk
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 tablespoon peanut or canola oil
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 large eggs, hard-boiled, peeled & coarsely chopped
Freshly ground pepper, to taste

Place potatoes in a large saucepan, cover with water and bring to a simmer over medium-high heat. Reduce heat to medium and cook, partially covered, until just tender, 12 to 20 minutes, depending on their size. Drain and let cool for about 15 minutes. Once the potatoes are cool enough to handle, taste a bit of potato skin; if it is bitter or tough, peel the potatoes. Otherwise, leave the skins on. Cut the potatoes into bite-size pieces and put them in a large salad bowl. Add celery, ham, parsley, chives or scallions, and mint or dill to the potatoes. Toss to combine. Add buttermilk, lemon juice, oil, salt and pepper; stir to combine. Gently stir in chopped egg. Serve at room temperature or chilled.

Tomato Gratin

4 slices whole-grain bread, torn into quarters
1 tablespoon minced garlic
1 tablespoon extra-virgin olive oil
1/3 cup finely shredded Pecorino Romano, or Parmesan Cheese
4 medium tomatoes, sliced
1/4 cup chopped fresh basil
1/2 teaspoon freshly ground pepper
1/4 teaspoon salt

Preheat oven to 450° F. Coat a shallow 2-quart baking dish with nonstick spray. Place bread in a food processor and pulse until coarse crumbs form. Add garlic, oil and cheese; pulse to combine. Spread the seasoned breadcrumbs on a baking sheet and bake until beginning to brown, about 5 minutes. Meanwhile, layer tomato slices in the prepared baking dish; sprinkle each layer with basil, pepper, and salt. Bake the tomatoes for 10 minutes; sprinkle with the toasted breadcrumbs, and bake for 10 minutes more. Serve immediately.

Pesto Summer Squash

1/2 cup fresh basil, chopped
1/4 cup pine nuts, toasted
1 tablespoon extra-virgin olive oil
1 tablespoon parmesan cheese, grated
1 clove garlic, minced
2 teaspoons lemon juice
1/4 teaspoon salt
2 medium summer squash, sliced diagonally 1/4 inch thick
Canola or olive oil cooking spray

Preheat grill to medium-high. Combine basil, pine nuts, oil, Parmesan cheese, garlic, lemon juice and salt in a small bowl. Coat both sides of squash slices with cooking spray. Grill the squash until browned and tender, 2 to 3 minutes per side. Serve topped with the pesto.

Old Fashioned Blueberry Fruit Crumble

2 1/2 cups fresh blueberries
1 tablespoon granulated sugar
3 tablespoons whole-wheat or all-purpose flour, divided
1 tablespoon orange juice
1/2 cup rolled oats
1/4 cup almonds or pecans, chopped
3 tablespoons brown sugar
1/4 teaspoon ground cinnamon
2 tablespoons canola oil

Preheat oven to 400° F. Combine blueberries with granulated sugar, 1 tablespoon flour and orange juice. Divide among four 6-ounce ovenproof ramekins. Combine oats, nuts, brown sugar, the remaining 2 tablespoons flour and cinnamon. Drizzle with oil and stir to combine. Sprinkle over the fruit mixture. Place ramekins on a baking sheet. Bake until the fruit is bubbling and the topping is golden, 20 to 25 minutes. Let stand for at least 10 minutes before serving.

Hot-&-Sour Okra Pickles

2 pounds okra, left whole (about 12 cups)
6 whole habanero peppers
3 cups distilled white vinegar, or cider vinegar
3 cups water
2 tablespoons plus 2 teaspoons sea salt
2 tablespoons sugar

Place a large bowl of ice water next to the stove. Bring a large pot of water to a boil. Add half of the okra, cover, return to a boil and cook for 2 minutes. Use a slotted spoon to transfer the okra to the ice water to cool. Repeat with remaining okra. Drain the cooled okra and divide among 6 pint-size (2 cup) sterilized canning jars or similar size tempered-glass or heatproof-plastic containers with lids. Add 1 habanero to each jar. Combine vinegar, 3 cups water, salt and sugar in a large saucepan. Bring to a boil and stir until the salt and sugar dissolve. Boil for 2 minutes. Remove from the heat. Carefully fill jars or containers with brine to within 1/2 inch of the rim, covering the okra completely; discard any leftover brine. Place lids on the jars or containers. Refrigerate for at least 1 week before serving. Store in the refrigerator for up to 1 month.

SBA Stands Ready to Assist Mississippi Residents Affected by Severe Storms, Tornadoes, and Flooding

By Kathy Cook
Public Affairs Specialist - SBA

U.S. Small Business Administration's (SBA) Administrator Maria Contreras-Sweet issued the following statement after the announcement of the Presidential disaster declaration for several counties in Mississippi affected by severe storms, tornadoes, and flooding that began on April 28, 2014.

"The U.S. Small Business Administration is strongly committed to providing the people of Mississippi with the most effective and customer-focused response possible to assist homeowners, renters, and businesses with federal disaster loans. Getting businesses and communities up and running after a disaster is our highest priority at SBA."

The disaster declaration covers the counties of Itawamba, Lee, Lowndes, Madison, Rankin, Wayne, and Winston in Mississippi which are eligible for both Physical and Economic Injury Disaster Loans from the SBA. Small businesses and most private non-profit organizations in the following adjacent counties are eligible to apply only for SBA Economic Injury Disaster Loans: Attala, Chickasaw, Choctaw, Clarke, Clay, Copiah, Greene, Hinds, Holmes, Jasper, Jones, Kemper, Leake, Monroe, Neshoba, Noxubee, Oktibbeha, Perry, Pontotoc, Prentiss, Scott, Simpson, Smith, Tishomingo, Union, and Yazoo in Mississippi; and Choctaw, Franklin, Lamar, Marion, Pickens, and Washington in Alabama.

Disaster loans up to $200,000 are available to homeowners to repair or replace disaster damaged or destroyed real estate. Homeowners and renters are eligible up to $40,000 to repair or replace disaster damaged or destroyed personal property.

Businesses and private non-profit organizations of any size may borrow up to $2 million to repair or replace disaster damaged or destroyed real estate, machinery, and equipment, inventory, and other business assets. The SBA may increase a loan up to 20 percent of the total amount of disaster damage to real estate and/or leasehold improvements, as verified by SBA, to make improvements that lessen the risk of property damage by future disasters of the same kind.

For small businesses, small agricultural cooperatives, small businesses engaged in aquaculture, and most private non-profit organizations of all sizes, the SBA offers Economic Injury Disaster Loans to help meet working capital needs caused by the disaster. Economic Injury Disaster Loan assistance is available regardless of whether the business suffered any physical property damage.

Interest rates are as low as 2.188 percent for homeowners and renters, 2.625 percent for non-profit organizations, and 4 percent for businesses with terms up to 30 years. Loan amounts and terms are set by the SBA and are based on each applicant's financial condition.

Applicants may apply online using the Electronic Loan Application (ELA) via SBA's secure website at <https://disasterloan.sba.gov/ela/>.

To be considered for all forms of disaster assistance, applicants should register online at www.DisasterAssistance.gov or by mobile device at m.fema.gov. If online or mobile access is unavailable, applicants should call the FEMA toll-free Helpline at 800-621-3362. Those who use 711-Relay or Video Relay Services should call 800-621-3362. The toll-free telephone numbers will operate from 6 a.m. to 10 p.m. (local time) seven days a week until further notice.

Additional details on the locations of Disaster Recovery Centers and the loan application process can be obtained by calling the SBA Customer Service Center at 800-659-2955 (800-877-8339 for the deaf and hard-of-hearing) or by sending an e-mail to disastercustomerservice@sba.gov.

The filing deadline to return applications for physical property damage is June 30, 2014. The deadline to return economic injury applications is January 30, 2015.

Invitation Open for Public Comment on Mississippi Farm to School

By Chaille Clements
Communications and
Marketing Specialist - MDAC

The Mississippi Farm to School Interagency Council is inviting public comment on proposed objectives of the Council and the promotion of farm to school programs in Mississippi in general. The public comment period will end on June 16, 2014, at 11:59 p.m.

The Interagency Farm to School Council was created by the Mississippi Legislature in 2013 to identify models and methods of promoting farm to school programs in the state in order to improve the availability of healthy, fresh foods in schools and to promote the economic development of Mississippi farmers and food producers. "Farm to school program" means any commercial relationship where a school purchases locally grown or locally raised agricultural products to serve in school meals and can include educational programs for students on local agriculture and nutrition.

The Interagency Farm to School Council is composed of representatives from of the Mississippi Department of Education, Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce, Mississippi State Department of Health, Mississippi State University Extension Service, Alcorn State University Extension Service, Mississippi Fruit and Vegetable Growers Association, Mississippi Poultry Association, and Mississippi Farm Bureau Federation.

The Council is charged with facilitating the creation and growth of farm to school programs in communities throughout the State of Mississippi through studying, recommending, and administering best practices for creating farm to school programs. The Interagency Council will report to specific legislative committees prior to the ending of the calendar year. The report will include recommendations to promote farm to school throughout the state.

The Interagency Farm to School Council has identified four objectives:

- 1) To cultivate and locate farmers to sell Mississippi products within the DoD Farm to School Program.
- 2) To cultivate and locate farmers to sell to individual school systems outside of the DoD Program.

3) To cultivate food nutrition directors to purchase Mississippi products from Mississippi farmers and create a connection between farmers and schools.

4) To cultivate a state cooperation at the legislature.

USDA Announces Effort to Cut Energy Costs for Farmers, Ranchers, Rural Small Businesses

By Sarah Scanlon
Deputy Director
Office of External &
Intergovernmental Affairs - USDA

Up to $12.3 Million in Grants and $57.8 Million in Loan
Guarantees Available In Rural
Energy for America Program

Agriculture Secretary Tom Vilsack announced that USDA is seeking applications from rural small businesses and agricultural producers for funding to make energy efficiency improvements or to install renewable energy systems.

"Developing renewable energy presents an enormous economic opportunity for rural America," Vilsack said. "This funding will help farmers, ranchers, and rural small business owners incorporate renewable energy and energy efficiency technology into their operations, create jobs, and help America become more energy independent. When small rural businesses and farmers cut their energy costs with cleaner and more efficient energy, we are both helping their bottom lines and reducing the amount of greenhouse gas pollution that affects our climate."

The funding announced is being provided through USDA's Rural Energy for America Program (REAP). Investments from programs like REAP help support the true engine of America's economic growth – a thriving middle class. REAP is one of many USDA programs and initiatives to support an expanded domestic energy economy. In addition to helping to increase renewable energy production, USDA makes investments in the bioeconomy, provides support for the emerging biobased products industry, supports new technologies, and supports energy efficiency improvements.

REAP funding has helped farmers expand renewable energy use in recent years. The new Census of Agriculture shows the number of farms utilizing renewable energy production has doubled in the last five years. More than 57,000 farms reported using a renewable energy system in 2012, while 23,451 operations reported doing so in 2007. Solar panels accounted for 63% of renewable energy systems on farms, with 36,331 farms reporting their use.

REAP funding is an example of the many ways that USDA is helping revitalize rural economies to create opportunities for growth and prosperity, support innovative technologies, identify new markets for agricultural producers, and better utilize our nation's natural resources.

Created by the 2008 Farm Bill, REAP was reauthorized by the recently passed 2014 Farm Bill. For fiscal year (FY) 2014, USDA plans to award up to $12.3 million in grants and $57.8 million in loan guarantees. Additional REAP funds provided by the Farm Bill will be made available with a subsequent notice.

USDA is accepting applications for:

- Renewable energy system and energy efficiency improvement loan guarantee and grant combinations;
- Renewable energy system and energy efficiency improvement loan guarantees; and
- Renewable energy system and energy efficiency improvement grants.

Requests for grants may not exceed 25 percent of a project's cost – either for stand-alone grant requests or for grants combined with loan guarantees.

Ag Day at MSU

Zac Howell, Committee Chairman of Mississippi State University Collegiate FFA welcomed everyone at National Ag Day on March 25, 2014, at Bost Extension Center on MSU's Campus, as students and faculty gathered to hear from speakers about the importance of agriculture to our state and nation. The National Ag Day program was started in 1973 as an annual event to bring awareness to agriculture, Mississippi's number one industry, and the hard-working farmers that provide food and clothing. Ag Day speakers featured: Dr. Bill Herndon, Associate Vice President of Ag., Forestry, and Vet. Medicine; Kayla Walters, State FFA President for Mississippi; Susan Head, MS Department of Agriculture and Commerce; Sylvia Clark, MS Women for Agriculture; and Whitney Hurt, Executive Director of Yazoo County Chamber of Commerce. After the program, participants enjoyed refreshments and fellowship.

Advertising Guidelines

The Mississippi Market Bulletin is published on the 1st and 15th of each month by the Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce. The Mississippi Market Bulletin is an important way for the Department to disseminate news and information about issues affecting Mississippi's agriculture industry and the Department's operations.

Through its classified advertising section, the Bulletin provides a forum for Mississippi residents to buy and sell agricultural related items while also giving statewide exposure to small farmers who might not normally have the economic resources for such widespread advertising. The Bulletin does not publish commercial or display ads and all items offered for sale must have been produced, raised, grown or operated on the seller's property. Businesses, corporations, dealerships, brokers or other commercial enterprises are not allowed to advertise in the Mississippi Market Bulletin.

Advertising rules and guidelines have been established for the Mississippi Market Bulletin in order to comply with regulations enforced by the Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce and to maintain the objectives of the publication. The staff of the Mississippi Market Bulletin reserves the right to edit, revise or reject any advertisement.

The Mississippi Market Bulletin assumes no responsibility for any notice appearing in the Bulletin nor for any transaction resulting from published notices. Advertisers are cautioned that it is against the law to misrepresent any product offered for sale in public notices or advertisements carried in any publication that is delivered by the United States Postal Service.

- In order to advertise in the Mississippi Market Bulletin you must be a subscriber. To place an ad, you must include your name, mailing address and account number that the subscription is listed under on each ad that you submit (this information will not be printed). Each subscriber is allowed to advertise two ads in the Bulletin, listing one ad per category.
- All listings must be agriculture related (raised, grown, produced or operated on your farm). At the top of your ad, write the category that the ad should be listed under. We reserve the right to edit, revise or reject each ad. Please print or type your ad.
- There is a 30-word limit for classified advertisements, this includes: price (on the item you are selling), your city, county and telephone number or name and complete address must be included in the ad if you do not list a telephone number. Ads cannot be held over from one issue to another. You must submit them for each issue.
- Out-of-state residents are not eligible to advertise with the following exceptions: Out-of-state ads are allowed in the "Wanting To Buy" category. Out-of-state ads are allowed for individuals owning farm property within the state that is being offered for sale (consisting of 10 acres or more).

Advertising Deadline Dates

JUNE 15 ISSUE.....DEADLINE MON., JUNE 2, 2014 • 12:00 NOON

JULY 1 ISSUE.....DEADLINE MON., JUNE 16, 2014 • 12:00 NOON

You must submit your ad for each issue. We do not hold ads over for multiple insertion.

Advertisement Submission Form

In order to advertise you must be a subscriber.
All classified ads must be 30 words or less.
We cannot run items for sale without a price.
See the Advertising Guidelines to the left for complete rules.

The Ultimate Outdoor Classroom

By Lise Foy, Director
MS Agriculture & Forestry Museum

What comes to mind when you hear 'outdoor classroom'? Perhaps an amphitheater or the image of a greenhouse pops in your head. What about a garden, a park, a farmers market, a nature trail, a pasture, or your own back yard? The possibilities are simply endless.

The close of the school year makes me think of summers on our little farm and long days spent playing and learning outside. One project I remember well was my Daddy teaching me how to make a kite. It was made from newspaper and horseweed or dogfennel stems. The glue was a mixture of flour and water, the tail made from strips of old undershirts, and the string was recycled feed sack stitching tied together and wrapped around a stick. In the midst of the fun we were having, I learned to identify weeds and what kind of habitat to find them, geometry and physics through the design process and counterweight of the tail, chemistry of mixing two substances together to get a different product, and how to think creatively and analytically to repurpose the materials we had available to solve the problem at hand.

Wow! That sounds like school, but what I remember most was the fun of flying the kite in the pasture!

The Ag Museum is a 40 acre classroom. The Clark family truly takes that to heart. Amie and James Clark bring their three children Ashland, Sara Grace and Shaun Patrick to the Ag Museum for every birthday party, every special event we offer and most Volunteer DL Johns and 9-year-old Ashland Clark, demonstrating mule plowing during the Spring Farm Days at the Ag Museum.

Saturdays. Amie homeschools the kids and uses every inch of our campus as her classroom.

"There are so many opportunities for learning. There are history lessons in Small Town and the Fortenberry-Parkman Farmstead about ways of life outside of technology. We can study transportation in the train exhibits and the aviation exhibit. Ashland has learned about mechanics, thermodynamics, and the difference between gas and steam engines at the cotton gin," says Clark. "Sara Grace enjoys the animals in the barn and this gives me an opportunity to teach them about care of livestock and responsibility."

During Spring Farm Days, Ashland who is 9, assisted with the mule plowing demonstrations led by two 70 year old volunteers. He learned about the parts of the harness and the antique implements that were used and how leverage is applied to make it all work. "There is a confidence level the kids have gained from being here. While they are having fun and playing, they can interact with the employees and other volunteers on their own," says Clark. "After the day of plowing, Ashland sat with his 80 year old grandfather and had a conversation about what he learned. He connected with his grandfather on a different level than ever before. This place gives us a chance to pass on traditions that might otherwise be lost."

Not only do the Clarks visit the Ag Museum, they bring life to the exhibits through serving as living interpreters in period dress. Amie and husband James have been participating in Civil War reenactments for around twenty years. They interpret civilian family life of the 19th century. Through careful research, they are able to develop living history presentations of what town life would have been like, not just what the battles were about. Amie speaks about the people of the time period. "They had real homes, real farms and real lives and we reenact the things that they had to do then that are not so different from we do today."

When Amie and her children are in character at the Farmstead, she plays the part of the farm wife doing things like cooking, laundry, churning butter, quilting, knitting and so on in the house. She describes these things to visitors as normal everyday activities at her house. Visitors are encouraged to find the things in her house that are the same as their house and what things are different. The children also are often given specific assignments of researching a point of history that would relate to the farm and then telling about it as an interpreter. It serves as oral book reports for the kids teaching them to read and process information.

Another lesson she teaches is where food comes from by making connections for her children with the plant growing in the garden and tomato we purchase at the grocery store. She describes the process and the work that goes into growing the end product. Amie says, "It helps to teach them patience. Everything is not just instant gratification."

The Clark children also love the General Store and the rocking chairs in the Heritage Center. Shaun Patrick, the youngest of the crew, especially loves the chair with the attached baby cradle.

In Amie's words, "learning does not have to be contained in a building with a desk. It can happen anytime, anywhere. Once you light that fire, they are going to want to learn and seek opportunities to find out more."

That puts me in the mood to teach my girls how to make a kite from scratch.

Visitors to the Ag Museum can see this family at the Farmstead every third Saturday during this summer. Demonstrations will include quilting and story time. The blacksmith shop is also open and manned by the Mississippi Forge Council members on the third Saturday. Come join us, the classroom is open!

And if you feel called to serve as an interpreter, docent, tour guide, or volunteer in any capacity at the Ag Museum, we want you! Contact Theresa Love at theresa@mdac.ms.gov for information on how to become a volunteer.

The Ag Museum is located at 1150 Lakeland Drive in Jackson and is open Monday through Saturday from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. In addition to our gallery and exhibit spaces, the Ag Museum also has room for your event, whether it's a meeting, a wedding, or other special event. Call (601) 432-4500 for information.

Annual Easter Egg Presentation

The Mississippi Egg Marketing Board recently made its annual Easter Egg presentation to First Lady Deborah Bryant. Entries were to be representative of Mississippi. Mrs. Sylvia Rutherford of Wesson (right) crafted the selected egg which includes three framed ovals each representing a different aspect of Mississippi: Cotton, the Blues Trail, and an antebellum home. The egg is topped with a lovely Magnolia blossom. Mrs. Rutherford received the news from Egg Marketing Board Member Commissioner Cindy Hyde-Smith (left). Mrs. Rutherford is a retired RN who has developed a passion for the art of Eggery.

During the Spring Farm Days at the Ag Museum, Amie Clarke enjoys her time quilting on the front porch of the Fortenberry-Parkman Farmstead, while looking after her two children Sara Grace and Shaun Patrick.
